

Before You Order That Fish...

More than 4 out of 5 pounds of seafood consumed in the US is imported, often from countries with weak (or non-existent) health, safety, labor and environmental standards.

